BUCKEYE INSTITUTE LAUNCHES IPHONE APPLICATION

March 14, 2011—COLUMBUS, Ohio - The Buckeye Institute for Public Policy Solutions announced the release of a new iPhone and iPad application available via the iTunes store. (<http://itunes.apple.com/us/app/buckeye-institute/id421516513?mt=8>) The free application gives Ohioans the ability to easily pull information from the Buckeye Institute databases using their mobile device.

“Our new application puts our information at Ohioan’s fingertips, anywhere at anytime,” says Matt Mayer, President of the Buckeye Institute. “We believe in empowering Ohio residents through information so they can have meaningful conversations with elected officials on the issues that will impact their lives.”

Features of the application include, access to the Buckeye Institutes five salary databases (Teachers, State, Federal, Local Governments, and Higher Education) and latest news and opinion. The databases contain search features, where users can receive results by searching for names, districts or departments and salaries, giving up to 500 results. App users now will be able to access the searchable databases as they attend school boards, city council, county commissioner and legislative meetings.

The application can be found on the Buckeye Institute website <http://www.buckeyeinstitute.org>, or the iTunes store (<http://itunes.apple.com/us/app/buckeye-institute/id421516513?mt=8>).
